From the beauty of the world's largest lagoon, to the French flavours and lifestyle of cosmopolitan Nouméa, and the exotic tropical paradise of the Isle of Pines.

The diversity of landscapes is beyond imagination. Magnificent flora and fauna. Spectacular mountains and lush forests. The bush and wide open spaces. Swimming and diving in the turquoise waters. The rich Kanak culture.

Enjoy it all in a level of comfort to suit you, from a palm thatched bungalow metres from the water's edge to a luxury five star hotel. New Caledonia is blessed by a semi-tropical climate all year round. Relaxing or active by day, romantic or exciting by night.

Picture yourself sipping French champagne on your balcony, as the sun sets after another picture-perfect day. Imagine basking by a warm, crystal clear lagoon under a clear blue sky and rustling palm trees. Strolling on a secluded golden beach where your footprints are the only ones in the sand. Or enjoy the excellent sporting and recreational activities and facilities.

THE ISLE OF PINES

Known as 'the Jewel of the Pacific', the Isle of Pines is among the most spectacular islands in the Pacific, fringed with white sands, turquoise lagoons and an exotic landscape of ancient botany. Sailing these waters aboard a traditional outrigger 'pirogue' is among the most evocative experiences to be had in New Caledonia.

And here you'll find two of our finest resorts.

Le Méridien Ile des Pins

Tucked among the island's signature araucaria pines is Le Meridien Isle of Pines, a five-star resort with a superb outlook over the white sands and vivid waters of Oro Bay. Its luxurious Pacific bungalows and fine dining make for a truly indulgent reward.

THE LOYALTY ISLANDS

A half-hour's flight from Nouméa are the Loyalty Islands, a string of idyllic coral atolls cast across an unspoiled reach of the Pacific.

Ilot Maître

Each is an archetypal tropical paradise - long beaches fringed by palms, azure waters and pristine coral reefs. These are among the most untouched islands in the Pacific, where the traditions of its people are as authentic as the warmth of their welcome.

To hop between these islands reveals a succession of new personalities – the wild landscapes of Mare, the lively indigenous traditions of Lifou and the exquisite beauty of Ouvéa with its renowned long beach of Mouli.

THE NORTHERN PROVINCE

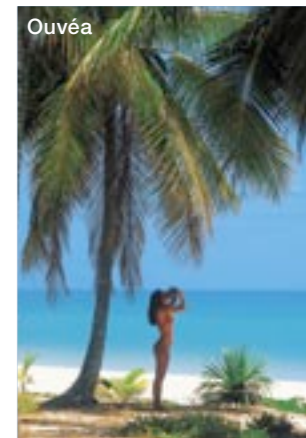

Against a backdrop of mountains, rainforests, rivers, savannah and beaches live some of the most traditional communities in New Caledonia. This is the Northern Province, where the customs of ancient times are still practised by many of the Kanak people.

Poum

The Northern Province is among the best regions of New Caledonia in which to engage with its proud Melanesian culture, where it's possible to stay in a traditional village and receive a warm tribal welcome.

It's also a land of natural wonders, from the remarkable Chicken Rock in the sea at Hienghene to the uncanny shape of the Heart of Voh, a natural expanse of mangroves in a giant symbol of love.
